

PAPER REQUIREMENTS OF UPRAVLENETS

General provisions

The journal only accepts papers that are relevant to the remit of the journal. The submitted manuscripts should handle topical issues, feature scientific-practical importance and novelty.

The articles submitted to the Editorial office are subjected to peer review and should the conclusion be positive are edited. The Editorial office does not ask for the authors' agreement on the corrections and reductions in the paper that do not involve principle issues.

The paper given back to the author for revision must be returned within the shortest possible terms accompanied with the author's answers to the reviewer's questions as well as with explanation to all changes made by the author.

The papers of postgraduates and applicants for candidate degrees may be admitted to the publication without co-authorship with Doctor or Candidate of Sciences; however the journal does not publish the papers written in co-authorship with undergraduate students.

Manuscript format requirements

The text should be written in *.doc or *.rtf format.

The manuscript should be between 35 000 and 50 000 characters with spaces in length not counting references and appendices in the A4 sheet of paper. All margins – 2 cm.

The text should be fully justified, no hyphenation. Times New Roman 14 pt; left indent 1.25; 1.5 space. All pages should be numbered.

All diagrams and tables should be embedded in the text and named.

Equations, figures, and tables are numbered in the order of the appearance in the text.

Colour design of graphical elements (figures, schemes) should be used solely for practical, rather than decorative purposes.

Requirements to the list of references

The list of references should predominantly include scientific papers from peer-reviewed periodicals, monographs and abstracts of dissertations. Legal documents, statistical publications and unnamed materials are not included into the list of references, if necessary they are mentioned in the text or in footnotes.

In line with the international publication standards, the recommended number of references should be not less than 30, of which not less than 50% should be indexed in Web of Science and Scopus.

Self-citations should not exceed 10%.

References are listed in alphabetical order by author surname and year. Transliterated Cyrillic references come first, followed by references in other languages in the order of the Roman alphabet. In case a DOI is available, it should be provided in the reference.

In-text citations are given in square brackets indicating author surname (s), followed by the year of publication and, in case of direct citation, a page number. Author surnames in Cyrillic alphabet are transliterated, e.g. [Tambovtsev, 2017, p. 23]. Citing two publications simultaneously requires semicolon [Tambovtsev, 2017, p. 23; Buchanan, 2010, p. 27]. If the number of authors exceeds three, in-text citation is shortened [Buchanan et al., 2010, p. 23]. To distinguish one author's works in the same year suffixes are added, e.g. [Buchanan, 2010a; Buchanan, 2010b]. If author surname is a part of sentence, only year and page number are given in brackets: As V.L. Tambovtsev [2017, p. 27] puts it ...

The papers that do not comply with the requirements are returned to the authors.

The publication of papers is free of charge.

The Editorial office does not pay any royalties to the authors.

In case the paper is accepted for publication, the authors should fill in and submit an application for publication.
